Poor old John Barleycorn is surely on his last legs now, and if business keeps up the way she is heading the decrepit old undesirable will very soon not have even one leg to stand on, and when this condition does arise the old fellow will sure be in some predicament. For the past few years the temperance people have been "putting the boots" to Barleycorn with such vigor that he has been forced to take his meals off the mantel piece and now that his real friends—the booze peddlers—have boosted prices beyond the reach of all but the very rich, and turning his poor, deluded victims against him because they can't pay the price, the one leg stage has about arrived and we shudder to think of the possibilities of the future.

Before Congress closed its session they taxed whiskey to the total extent of $3.20 per gallon and fixed the tax on a barrel of beer at $2.75. The liquor dealers, both manufacturer and retailer are always real patriots and will not interfere with any man paying this excess tax, in fact they straightway went into convention with themselves and made it possible for the other fellow to pay these added taxes to support their government at war, by arranging a schedule of prices which did not interfere with their profits to the extent of one cent, while boosting the entire burden of the added war taxes upon the backs of the already overburdened consumer.

To illustrate this thoughtfulness on the part of the booze peddlers we ask permission to refer once more to the local or Clearfield County Retail Liquor Dealers Association, which organization with the great ability and keen foresight which characterizes their officers and guiding spirits, took time by the forelock and anticipating the action of Congress boosted prices three months ago to meet the raise of the brewer and distiller now, since the new revenue law went into effect October 1st.

Many of the other liquor dealers' organizations throughout the state met Sunday last and raised prices, but when the local crowd was called to order and the call of the State president was read telling how much prices ought to be raised, the committee on ways and means reported that to boost 'er any higher meant absolute prohibition, and some of those present were against that, and there they hung until the meeting adjourned to await developments.

In proof of the above statement we append the schedule of prices agreed upon by the 1200 liquor dealers present at the Allegheny county meeting in Pittsburgh Sunday, as taken from Monday's Gazette Times:—

The following scale of prices was rushed through despite those in opposition, who wished to let the local saloonist fix his own rates:

"Bar whiskey, 15 cents a glass straight; bonded whisky and special blends, 20 cents; bonded quarts, $2.25; bonded pints, $1.15; bonded half pints, 60 cents; bonded quarts, $1.75; bonded pints, 95 cents; bonded half pints, 50 cents; gins and all Irish and Scotch whiskies, 25 cents straight; bar gin, 20 cents straight.

This is the standard price agreed upon for beer sales: Five ounce glass for 5 cents, 10 cents for a 10-ounce glass. As no beers are now imported, those domestic brands in use resembling imported beers have been raised to 20 and 25 cents per seidel, with small bottles to go at 15 cents and large ones at 20 cents.

The largest whisky glass is fixed at one and three-fourths ounces, and a 10-ounce beer glass is recommended.

The brewers are not going to let the retailers get all the gravy while the consumer is paying the war tax and (Continued On Page Three)

Letters to the Editor

We depart from our promise not to engage in a controversy with Publicist Bangert, the official scribe of the Li-quorbund, regarding a previous article or two which appeared in The Progress recently about the situation in Jefferson county before and since that county went dry and eliminated all "booze foundries."

We published a statement from the Punksutawney Republican showing a falling off of more than 100 per cent in the number of arrests by the police of their town during the first year without license as compared with the police records of the year previous. As Bangert bleeds every time old Jack Barleycorn is hit below the belt he took issue with the statement in a communication in which he charged that the recent criminal court in Jefferson county was the largest in many years, and asked if we knew that that fact was due to the county being dry.

We replied that we had no knowledge that the court was out of the ordinary but would inquire and when we got the facts would publish them. We queried a responsible Jefferson county citizen, familiar with the facts, and published his statement Monday, with the explanation that no controversy was desired.

The Publicist finds fault with every statement in every article in question which gives Barleycorn the worst of it, and in order to show the shallowness of his penny-a-line argument we publish it at this time and beg our readers indulgence for this much of the controversy, which ends here.

Our friend Bangert appears to feel hurt because he alleges we doubted his veracity, and if he can arrive at that conclusion after reading our gentle reminder we will have to allow him to go to it. We have never known Brother Bangert to privately, personally, wickedly or with malice, aforethought engage in the deplorable pastime of bearing false witness, but we do know, and it is a matter of public record in two separate places as recorded on the archives of the criminal courts of Clearfield county, by direction of two juries of twelve men, where after much effort, no doubt, he forced his pen to write that was untrue, when he was manufacturing the truth for a purpose it a penny-a-line as he is and has been doing, when lending his professional talent to the defense of booze and booze peddlers.

Mr. Bangert's letter speaks for itself. Read it:

DuBois, Pa. Oct. 8, 1917
Editor of The Progress,
Clearfield, Pa.

Replying to the article which appeared in The Progress Saturday, October 6, This controversy began by the statement published in The Progress that there had been fewer arrests at Punksutawney, Jefferson county, during the first year that county had gone dry, than had been made during the previous year of license. The Progress claims that this unproved condition was brought about because, there were no liquor licenses.

We called the attention of The Progress to the fact that the recent criminal court of Jefferson county was one of the largest in the history of that county, and asked The Progress if they account for this in the same manner. We wanted to know whether the fact that Jefferson county had gone dry is accountable for the exceptionally large criminal court.

The Progress replied that they did not know whether the criminal court of Jefferson county was larger than in the past or not, that they only had Bangert's word. The Progress agreed to investigate, and did, publishing on Saturday a communication from some lawyer, whose identity they have not disclosed, and that correspondent has in view the truthfulness of our statement that the criminal court of Jefferson county was one of the largest in the history of that county. The Progress correspondent says:

"It is true that our August criminal court was larger than usual."

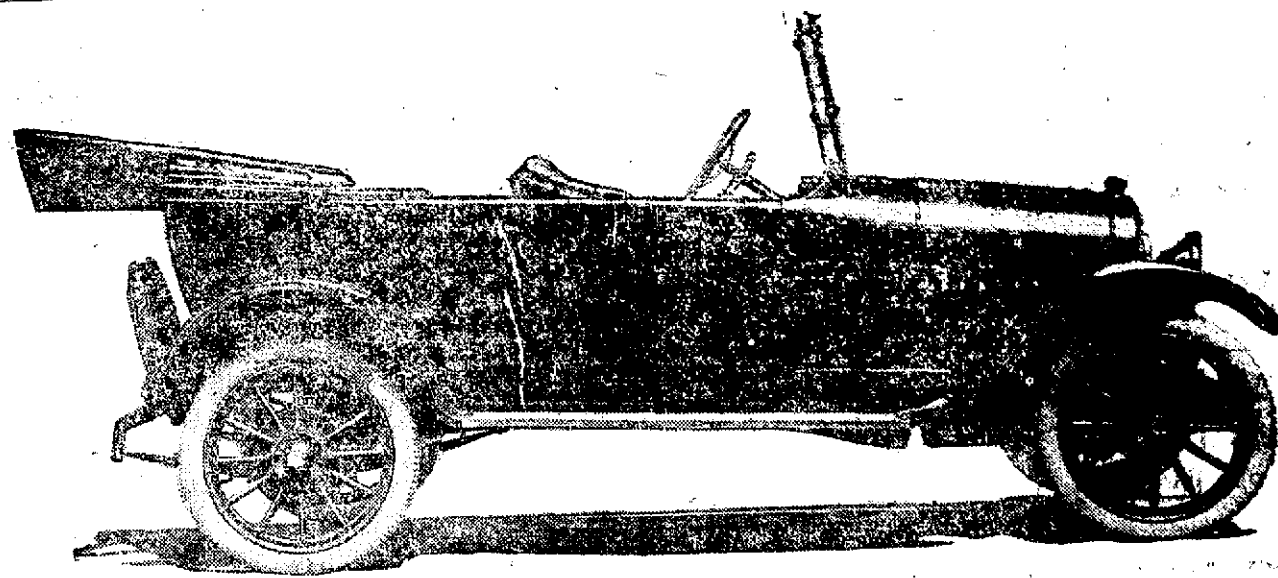

The correspondent of The Progress has verified our statement that the August criminal court was larger

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. F. J. Edwards' discovery that certain liver and gall bladder secretions are the cause of the trouble. Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the system. So do strong liquors. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dizziness" and that they feel come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "tired" and "heavy." No more headaches, dizziness, or that they feel come from constipation and a disordered liver.

Beautiful 1918 Maxwell Now On Exhibition

Without altering the world champion motor, the famous perfected clutch and transmission or the mighty axles, the Maxwell builders have produced a new wonder car, far superior in construction and in appearance to anything yet turned out by the Maxwell factories—we have this new and beautiful car—come and see it.

The car is larger and roomier, for one thing—the wheel-base has been increased six inches.

It is also a stronger and more rigid machine for the road.

The frame is now six inches instead of three inches deep.

And the body rests directly on this powerful frame instead of on brackets extending from the sides, as in the past.

Do you know what that means?

It means this: The firmness with which the wheels grip the road and the steadiness of the car at high speed give you a sense of security such as you have been able to enjoy before only in cars shackled with a battery of shock absorbers.

This New Car is 50 Pounds Lighter

There's a marvel of engineering for you, friends!

The car is made bigger and stronger—and yet actually lighter.

This means greater ease and comfort on the road.

Touring Car $745; Roadster $745; Coupe $1095; Berline $1095; Sedan $1095
All prices f. o. b. Detroit

Smith & Barger Sales Co.
Clearfield, Pa.

More than that—it means greater economy.

And the Maxwell before was the most economical 5-passenger car in the world.

Compensating underslung rear springs—the last word in spring suspension—mark this wonderful Maxwell of 1918.

They mean greater comfort—greater economy, by lessening wear and tear on the car.

Maxwell Now Has the Style of the Costliest Cars

The new Maxwell is a car of great beauty.

It has a sloped windshield and rakish lines never before produced in any car costing less than $1200.

Its good looks now equal its proved mechanical efficiency.

The new upholstery is richer and gives a new comfort.

Inside and out the new 1918 Maxwell is a perfected car. We're proud to sell it.

You'll be proud to own one.

than usual, and we will not again ask the Progress whether it believes this great wave of crime which has passed over Jefferson county is due to the fact that there are no liquor license there?

The Progress says: "Mr. Bangert made certain assertions regarding the recent Jefferson county criminal court and alleged that the people of Jefferson county were already tired of the peace, sobriety and good order due to the changed conditions."

We made no assertions of any kind as to whether the people were satisfied with their present conditions or tired of them. The Progress is asked to show us a single assertion made in any of our issues as to the feeling of the people of Jefferson county.

It has been the custom for many years of the prohibitionists to blame all crime upon the liquor industry. They assure us that if all licenses were eradicated there would be no crime in the poor house and the criminal courts would be out of business. The argument has stood for 30 years and is liable to stand for 30 years more.

The correspondent of The Progress, whom the editor says is reliable, among other things, says:

"The greater part of the crime of the last criminal court was taken up with the trial of the Ernest Thomas murder case, as Mr. Bangert does not well know. That case came from a rural township which never had a saloon and it did not appear that Ernest Thomas was ever addicted to the use of liquor."

That sounds a queer thing to say, than many of the famous murders we read about the last criminal court. It seems that the number of murders in other criminal cases of the county during the August criminal court was not too far from the number of murders in the past. In another place the correspondent says:

12 YEAR OLD BOY FELL UNDER TRAIN AT BROCKWAYVILLE

Joe Dugan, a 12-year-old boy, while trying to board a freight train at Brockwayville last evening, missed his hold and fell under the wheels, receiving injuries that proved fatal in less than an hour. Young Dugan was playing around the Pennsylvania railroad cars at 6:20 last evening when an Erie freight train came along. The lad tried to swing onto the step of a car but missed and went under. The wheels covered both legs and otherwise mutilated the young victim. He was taken to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dugan as soon as possible and medical aid summoned but he expired in a short time. The funeral will be held Thursday.

they got their heads together and boosted their prices to the trade, tacking on an extra $1.75 per barrel for draft beer and a corresponding increase in bottled beers. Under the new schedule the retailer pays $10.50 per barrel and $1.40 per case of twenty-four pint bottles. The private trade will be soaked $1.75 for an "eighth," or little keg; $3.50 for a "quarter," and $1.75 for a case of twenty-four bottles. The wholesaler is given his barrels for $8.75; a barrel in little kegs for $9.75 and cases at $1.05 each.

This is a free country alright and the booze peddlers are free to allow the consumer to pay every cent of the war tax—if you will allow us to repeat this assertion, which we want to stick in—and the consumer is free to do it, but he is a damphool if he does, and we wonder if this last move wont open his eyes to his own weakness and gullibility. And then if the worm should turn—but it's coming anyhow.

WORLD'S GREATEST DESTROYER CONTRACT AWARDED BY DANIELS

Five Companies Will Construct $350,000,000 Worth of War Vessels—Total Number of Ships Kept Secret

Washington, Oct. 9.—Secretary Daniels today awarded contracts to five shipbuilding companies for the construction of $350,000,000 worth of destroyers. This is the biggest contract for vessels of this type ever awarded by this or any other government and when these destroyers have been completed, it is expected that the United States will have the largest fleet of destroyers in the world.

With the award of these contracts the war construction program of the American navy was brought to a total of 737 vessels, including all types from superdreadnoughts to submarine chasers. Some have been finished in the past few weeks and are now in service. The rest of the program is being pushed as rapidly as possible to completion. The total cost of the program is estimated at $1,250,400,000.

The total number of destroyers to be built is held to be a military secret. The basis of the price for the construction, Mr. Daniels said, was cost plus, with guarantees that the cost should not be above a certain figure and, if below that figure, the companies to receive a bonus.

PRESIDENT IN CONFERENCE WITH LAFOLLETTE PROBERS

Pomerene Promised All Facts Relating To Lusitania And Her Cargo

Washington, October 9.—Chairman Pomerene of the Senate committee investigating Senator La Follette's St. Paul speech conferred today with President Wilson and with Secretary Lansing, gathering material for examining La Follette's statement that former Secretary Bryan having knowledge of ammunition cargo on board the Lusitania when she sailed on her last voyage, urged the President to keep Americans off the ship.

All facts in the State Department's possession relating to the ship and her cargo will be placed before the investigating committee without reserve, Senator Pomerene was assured.

Mr. Bryan already has denied Senator La Follette's statement.

Senator Pomerene today wrote Mr. Bryan asking him to advise the committee regarding La Follette's assertions.

A telegram received today from the Minnesota Public Safety Commission, which forwarded the first petitions for Senator La Follette's expulsion, stated that three certified transcripts of the St. Paul speech as taken by three separate expert stenographers were being forwarded today to the committee. Senator La Follette is also expected to submit a transcript.

President To Issue Order That Will Govern Trade in About 20 Leading Commodities

Washington, D. C., Oct. 9.—Virtually all the staple foods consumed by the American people will be put under Government control November 1. The Food Administration announced tonight that within a few days President Wilson will issue an Executive order requiring that manufacturers and distributors of some 20 fundamental foods operate under license restrictions designed to prevent unreasonable profits and to stop speculation and hoarding.

Regulations will be prescribed for meat packers, cold storage houses, millers, canners, elevators, grain dealers and wholesale dealers and retailers doing a business of more than $100,000 annually in the commodities to be named.

A DROP of Atlantic Gasoline—what majesty, what superb virility! Torn to shreds in the cylinder-head and lashed into a stream of might in instant flight from crank-shaft to rear wheels!

Pep. Power. Tremendous power—steady, unflinching. Truly a super-gasoline that makes any motor a better motor, that makes any motorist a happier motorist.

Atlantic Gas is so downright spunky. Up-hills are turned into down-grades. Level stretches become as the free, unobstructed air to the whirling aeroplane. Increased mileage and decreased upkeep are a matter of course—and fact.

Whatever you drive—Ford or Fiat, Cole or Cadillac, Roamer or Rolls-Royce, Atlantic Gasoline will give it new impetus, new vigor. For, Atlantic Gas will and does Put Pep in Your Motor.

ATLANTIC GASOLINE

Puts Pep in Your Motor

"You've Got the Goods, Atlantic"

"Today, the specific gravity test is practically worthless as a check on the quality of a gasoline, for example, for a given motor equipment. It seems most probable that the definition of gasoline will have to be based on the percentage that distills over between specified temperatures, when the distillation is carried out under specified conditions." "The gasoline must not vaporize too freely for two reasons: One, that it would not be safe, and secondly, its loss in storage by evaporation would be too great. Hence, the specification may have to contain limits below a certain temperature, coupled perhaps with a proviso that certain percentages shall distill over below other fixed temperatures, in order that requisite amount of low-boiling constituents shall be present to insure easy starting of an engine." "Likewise the specification must contain a proviso that all must distill over below a certain maximum temperature, in order to exclude from the gasoline the heavier petroleum distillates, such as kerosene." Official Press-Statement by U. S. Govt. Bureau of Standards.

We've been preaching and practicing the same thing for years. The boiling-point of Atlantic Gasoline is always uniform. It meets Uncle Sam's laws perfectly.

NEW OVERLAND
CAR WILL COST
UNDER $500John North Willys and the Willys-
Overland Company have in final form
the car that is to be the first serious
challenge to the Ford car and the Ford Motor company. The new Overland car will sell for under $500. It is of remarkably good appearance and
solid mechanical worth, and will be offered with complete equipment, including electrical starting and lighting. Its appearance will mean that buyers of cars in the Ford class will
no longer be able to make their purchases without considering another
machine. As the Willys-Overland company is the second largest individual
maker of automobiles in the world,
the Ford company being at present
in the premier position, the offering
of the new car marks the beginning
of a struggle between the two firms
of the industry who are best fitted to occupy first place. Willys and his engineers are confident that, mechanically good as the Ford car is, they have far exceeded it in their present
design.Briefly the new machine may be outlined as possessing a four cylinder
engine, a two speed sliding gear transmission as against the planetary
gearing of the Ford; a unique spring
suspension that is sufficient in itself
and which precludes the necessity of
shock absorbers so essential on low priced cars; electric lighting and
starting that is really designed for
the car and sold with it, instead of
being tacked on afterwards at an extra expense. The weight is around 1,550 pounds and new records are expected to be made in gasoline consumption and tire life when the car
gets into the hands of the owners.
Plans are being made for enormous
production next season.Coupled with the mechanical features is an appearance that is highly pleasing, and expresses the value beneath to such a degree that one of the
few persons that has been privileged
to see the car exclaimed that "for the money, it looks as though they had stolen their materials." In other words the natural query is—"How can
they do it?" and the answer lies in the fact that Willys is the second large-
est maker of automobiles. He is possessed of the facilities and ability to make such a car in the way it has to be made in order that it may be made
so.He also possesses the national
selling organization that is necessary
to market such a car, though it is obvious that, once well started in actual use, the new vehicle will share
the Ford's self-selling honors along
with all the rest.Essentially a volume producer, Wil-
lys' thoughts for several years, naturally have turned to the field in
which the greatest volume is possible,
and it has long been his idea to produce a car of a kind and at a price
that would challenge the dominant manufacturer in that field. However,
his own business has been so enormous, and his equipment, big as it is, so fully employed, coupled with the fact that he was not ready in the
sense that his sources of supplies were not yet developed to the point where they could bear their share of the load and he has been compelled to forego putting his plan into execution. However, he has not for a moment wavered in his determination
to do it when the right time came.The time is now at hand, the tremendous Willys properties not only at Toledo, but at various other points,
have been developed at a high degree
of coordination. For at least four years his engineering staff has been
at work developing the various types
of the cars desired, but it is only with-
in itself the qualities that Willys
knows it must have. As a matter of fact work on such a car was started
back as far as the time when part of the Willys factories were located in Indianapolis. Be it said to his credit
that he then realized that he had not
the equipment to start such a project
and carry it through to success.Now he has the immense Toledo, O.,
plants and wide spread affiliations
with sources of supplies and materials
to assure him all the parts he needs.
In preparation for commencing the
new output the inventories have been changed gradually, and it has been determined to reduce materially the
number of models, retaining only certain standard chassis and offering these with a variety of bodies.Those who have ridden in the new car state that its spring suspension
makes it ride as well as a heavy car
of 130 inch wheel base and comparative tests beside the Ford show conclusively its superiority. It is a car
that the masses can buy, run economically, and ride in with comfort and pride.with the hood lines at the front and with the body at the rear. The top is of the one man type, completing the modern equipment of this remarkable car.In determining to offer it at the present time, Willys not only seizes the moment when the company is fully capable of understanding the work,
but also enters the Ford market at exactly the time when such a machine will be in most demand. With hundreds of thousands of skilled workmen employed in producing war munitions,
army equipment of all sorts and kinds,
and general industrial activity, the skilled laboring class is bound to be prosperous. This prosperity in turn is reflected in the sale of thousands of cars of the suitable type at prices below the $500 mark. The new Overland therefore catches the current big volume market in both price and quality.—adv.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Camp Grant
Rockford, Ill.Dear Brother:
Well it is two weeks tonight since
I left Clearfield and I have been so
busy that it hasn't seemed more than two days.I find life in the U. S. army very pleasant so far. We get up between 5:30 and 5:45 and have reveille at 6.
From 6 until 6:25 we have muscular exercises. You should be in that.
The ten days I have spent here has done me a lot of good. At 6:30 we have mess and are ready for duty at 7:15. We drill from then until noon
or 11:30 rather, but not steady. We have muscular exercise and lectures desides drill. From 11:30 to 1:05 is mess and clean up time. Then we drill from 1:05 till 4:15, wash and get supper at 5. After chuck we stand retreat at 5:40 and are free until 11
but if in camp must be quiet after 9
o'clock. I have only been out of camp
once. Last Sunday evening I was over to the City of Rockford, but I shall be careful when I go again. I got lost. When I arrived back at camp I had quite a time finding our barracks. You can get some idea of the number of men in here when I tell
you of a fellow I came here with from Columbus and whose barracks is only
3 buildings from here. I never saw him after I landed until today when I
made a special trip to his company to give him a letter that came to our building. They are sending all the drafted men from Illinois here but they are not going in the Engineers.
There was a piece in the Rockford paper some few days ago that I wish I had cut out and sent back home. It was about a bunch of drafted men
who were passed by the local board
and when they got off the train at camp one of them was found to have

Republicans Rally To Support Of Borough And County Ticket

Most Enthusiastic Meeting Held At Court House Last Evening By Borough Committee

E. E. JIMESON IS CHAIRMAN

That the Republicans of Clearfield Borough will rally to the support of the Republican candidates, both county and borough, was indicated last night by the excellent turn out to the Republican Borough meeting held in the Arbitration room of the Court House.

The general apathy shown in the primaries is steadily but surely growing into a determination on the part of Republicans to win this fall from sheriff to election officers. When the call was issued for the meeting it was not expected that the voters would turn out so enthusiastically as they did. It was a source of great satisfaction to the party leaders to see so much interest and from every one present there came assurances of hearty support and optimistic assertions.

As a general rule not more than a baker's dozen at best, as we would say in these war times, not more than a Corporal's guard, turn out to these meetings but last night the Arbitration room was comfortably filled. A few candidates were present, both county and borough, and they were filled with much encouragement by the demonstration in their behalf.

After a few short speeches by local men the chairman called on John Arnold, our next district attorney for a speech. Mr. Arnold in a few well chosen remarks put his plea before the voters assembled and when he was through all were agreed that his plain statement of facts were all to the point and worthy of commendation to every voter of Clearfield county.

John M. Chase, the Republican nominee for Burgess, was called upon and stated his desire to preside at the head of our beautiful little city to do for it all that within his power lies. Mr. Chase received a hearty welcome

Government Food Control Will Be Absolute By First Of Next Month

Washington, Oct. 10.—Government food control will be absolute November 1, 1917. Herbert Hoover today is putting the finishing touches on a proclamation shortly to be issued by President Wilson licensing dealers in the prime necessities of life. The "slackers in business" will be rounded up. Regulations will be issued touching speculation in food and the preventing of hoarding and wasting of food.

"Unfair and unreasonable" purchase will be eliminated. Among the commodities to be placed under control are flour, bread, meat, sugar, milk, butter, dairy products, rice, canned food and staple vegetables.

Although regulation is limited by law to those doing a business of $100,000 or more annually, Hoover expects to exercise indirect control over the smallest corner grocery through his hold on meat packers, cold storage houses, mills, etc.

After November 1st no unlicensed dealer can handle the commodities to be named by Hoover. A legal department has been established in this connection. The plan resulted from over 200 conferences held with leaders in all lines of trade and has their approval.

Corporal Hall was minus a leg, the result of a fall from his plane, but is going back to fight as soon as he can be fitted with an American-made artificial limb. All three American aviators have won the French war cross.

and is in the campaign to win. He is not alone in his fight. Republicans and Democrats will unite on Mr. Chase for Burgess.

Space prohibits our reporting the meeting in full detail. Enthusiasm ran so high that every man wanted to have something to say on behalf of the different candidates. At times the chairman had to decide who was entitled to the floor. Senator M. L. McQuinn presented a plea on behalf of W. P. Norris for Sheriff who was unavoidably absent. Notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Norris was absent the mention of his name brought loud and prolonged applause from the assembled audience.

Bought Whiskey At Philipsburg Sells Part Of It At Woodland

Hundred Per Cent. Profit Business Good While It Lasts
But Police Are Tipped Off, And The Beans Are Spilled

This is indeed a cold, cruel world, and while one half the people do not know how the other half lives, there always appears to be a policeman or two around to interfere when a fellow decides on a plan to store up some easy money. At least that appears to be the case of one of the Frans Henrich of Krebs, who is now a member of Sheriff McClellan's band squad at the county seat on North Second street.

Henrich has been involved at Krebs' brickyard and it is said that money could be earned much easier and quicker than by any other means. He has been in the business for some time and has been successful in his efforts to make a fortune.

Last Saturday, September 29th, Henrich was at Philipsburg and purchased a small lot of whiskey at a price of $1.00 per gallon. He then drove to Woodland where he sold the liquor at $2.00 per gallon, a profit of 100 per cent.

At the same time, the sheriff at Woodland, who was tipped off by the police at Philipsburg, was on hand to catch Henrich and his associates.

Values Her Reputation In Dollars And Cents

Foreign Woman Wants $1000 Damages On Account of Neighbor's Son Mot

According to a statement filed in the Prothonotary's office by Attorney James A. Gleason of DuBois, yesterday, Mary Kosky is not "the greatest thief in all the world," and she asks the opportunity of having the Clearfield County court set its official O. K. on her opinion of herself. Mary so her statement placed of record in the Prothonotary's office says, is a citizen of this Commonwealth and frankly admits to being 40 years of age.

She is acquainted with one Annie Glowatski, who speaks the language of her fatherland and sometime during 1917 Annie in the course of a tongue fight with the plaintiff made the assertion that Mary was "the greatest thief in all the world," and that while Mary knew all the time she wasn't, some of her neighbors gave ear to the insinuations of Annie and caused her to be arrested and punished for larceny.

As a result of such happenings, Mary's good reputation in the community in which she lived in the southwestern end of Clearfield county was badly interfered with and damaged, and as a further result she suffered great mental anguish and inconvenience.

Her cup of troubles incident to Annie's alleged false charge was filled to the brim on September 26, 1917, and since that time she has brooded over her injured feelings and reputation to such an extent that she feels safe in arriving at a proper valuation in dollars and cents of these injuries.

Accordingly she has informed her attorney that she has been injured and damaged to the extent of one thousand dollars in good gold standard United States currency and directed the said attorney to come into the Clearfield county courts and endeavor to have a jury of twelve good men and true find from the testimony which she will produce that her position is well taken, her idea of the amount of damage sustained no more than adequate and that thereupon the court and jury will recommend and order the said Annie Glowatski to pay over to her that sum forthwith.

The matter will be placed upon the trial list and determined at December term of court.

LEADING CITIZEN IS SUMMONED BY DEATH

William H. Patterson, Prominent Lawyer, Banker and Business Man, Called to His Reward

FINAL ILLNESS VERY BRIEF

William H. Patterson, Esq., a leading member of the Clearfield county bar and a prominent and highly respected citizen of Clearfield, passed into rest eternal at his family home on Front street at about 4:45 o'clock last evening, following a paralytic stroke with which he was seized on Friday last.

Mr. Patterson had been in ill health for more than a year, suffering from diabetes. He spent last winter in Florida and returned in the spring much benefited. He continued to improve during the summer and had been feeling much better. He contemplated spending the coming winter in Florida and with Mrs. Patterson had arranged to depart for the southland about the 15th of this month.

About ten days or two weeks ago he was a victim on one of his trips while looking after his mining interests near Brisbane and while the injury responded nicely to treatment it caused him more or less trouble. Last week he was taken down and his physician detected traces of uraemic poisoning. It was the beginning of the end and the stroke followed a few days later. Everything possible was done for him but human skill was of no avail and the final summons came as above stated.

William H. Patterson was born on a farm in Warrisburg, Huntingdon county, on the 14th day of November, 1851. His father was John H. Patterson, quartermaster of the Fifth Pennsylvania reserves during the Civil War. His mother was Sarah Hutchinson.

His youth was spent upon the farm and his early education obtained in the common schools, Millersville State normal and State normal.

He studied law with the late H. M. Balbridge at Hollidaysburg and was admitted to the Blair County Bar in May, 1878, and was afterward admitted to the Blair County Bar in 1879.

He first located in Houtzdale and while there was married to Frances Foley, of Clearfield, a daughter of the late Judge Foley.

In April, 1895, he removed with his family to Clearfield where he resided up to the time of his death. James A. Gleason was associated with Mr. Patterson in the practice of law at Houtzdale, Clearfield and DuBois, from December 8th, 1897, to January 1st, 1915, at which time the partnership of Patterson & Gleason was dissolved. Mr. Patterson afterwards associating in partnership with him, his son, William H. Patterson Jr., under the firm caption of Patterson & Patterson.

As a lawyer Mr. Patterson was scrupulously exact and honest in dealing with his clients. He was noted for the minute attention he gave to details and for the care which he displayed in the settlement of large and small estates. He was not regarded as a counsel but as a confidential family adviser. It is doubtful if there is another lawyer at the bar who handled larger sums for longer periods of time, belonging to the heirs of decedents, than did Mr. Patterson in his long career as a lawyer, and that too without the slightest hint of suspicion as to the honest and careful administration of such funds.

In his private life his credit was unimpaired. Personal obligations were paid promptly. He was a man of no large or small means. An absolute stranger to the use of tobacco or liquor. His example was and is a model to the younger men of this generation. Polite and affable and without exceeding modest and retiring, he manifested himself on all occasions as a gentleman of the old school.

In educational affairs his sympathies were fully realized by the people of Clearfield. He and the Commonwealth College, Clearfield, were the mainstay of the educational system of the county. He was made President of the Clearfield School Board. At the time of his

JOINT COMMITTEE TO RECOMMEND APPARATUS

Will Ask Council To Provide Fire Department With Three
New Fire Fighting Machines

IS CERTAINLY BADLY NEEDED

The joint committee representing the Town Council and Fire Department to act upon the request of the Executive Committee of the Department for much-needed fire apparatus met last evening and after going into the needs of the department along the lines of their demand, decided to recommend to Council the purchase of a hook and ladder wagon and two hose wagons, motor driven. The committee was composed of Messrs. A. J. Hagerty, A. E. Leitzinger and Leroy Boyce, of Council and Chief Connolly and First Assistant Ira Jay, of the Fire Department.

The need for this new apparatus is apparent to all in touch with the situation, as the fire department is practically without equipment, except in the way of hose, the Elk Hose company's efficient truck and the steam fire engine.

The other three companies have nothing but a single hose reel each, and they are all candidates for the scrap heap. The present horse drawn hook and ladder wagon is not only obsolete and out of date, but since A. L. Kline went out of the livery business no team is available to take it to the fires and it must remain in the hose house. The committee expects death he was serving his fourth successive term as a Trustee of State College. He gave largely of his time to these high positions of trust and honor and his influence will be long felt in the progressive standards established by himself and his colleagues.

In 1914 he was a candidate for State Senator upon the Democratic ticket but was honorably defeated in the landslide that swept the state that year.

He was a public spirited citizen and at the time of his death was a director in the Clearfield National Bank and also president of the Shade Tree Commission of Clearfield, and was a leader in works of civic merit.

As a husband and father he was ideal. He lived and labored for his home and dear ones. Pure minded and clean in life the hearth of his home stood next to the altar of his church. His home was his club and as a host he excelled.

He was a member of the Presbyterian church and lived and died a true Christian.

His Masonic career is as follows: Past Master of Osceola Lodge, No. 515, Free and Accepted Masons, Clearfield Chapter No. 228, Royal Arch Masons, Past Eminent Commander of Moshannon Commandery No. 74, Knights Templar, Jaffa Temple A. A. O. N. M. S. Altoona, Penna.

The funeral will be held from his late home Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, his pastor, Rev. Dr. E. C. Reeve officiating. The Masonic lodge will have charge of the funeral. Interment in Hillcrest cemetery.

MEMORIAL MEETING OF CLEARFIELD BAR ASSOCIATION

A memorial meeting of the Clearfield Bar Association will be held in the Court room Friday morning at 10 o'clock for the purpose of taking suitable action on the death of James H. Kelley and William H. Patterson, Esq.

Lizzie Bell appointed Messrs. R. D. Swann, of Curwensville, W. C. Miles, of Clearfield and James A. Gleason, of DuBois, a committee to draft suitable resolutions on the death of Mr. Patterson and they will report at Friday morning's meeting.

Messrs. George R. Pigeon and W. A. Hagerty of Clearfield, and W. C. Pentz of DuBois, will also present their tribute to the memory of James H. Kelley, Esq., at this meeting.

to be able to trade it in on the new machine. This was the last piece of fire apparatus purchased by the borough for the fire department and that was some fifteen years ago. The hose reels now in use were purchased six years ago by the firemen themselves.

Several weeks ago the Executive Committee was directed to place the needs of the Department before Council and did so in a statement of conditions with request for the apparatus agreed upon at last night's meeting and in addition thereto asked that Council also supply a triple combination pumping engine the total cost to approximate $20,000, with the further request that a special election be arranged for for primary day, Sept. 19th, to get a vote of the people on the subject.

The request was turned over to the Finance Committee of Council and after careful investigation they reported back to Council and while they found the apparatus needed felt that the present bonded indebtedness would not justify another election for increase of debt at this time it was imperative that some apparatus be purchased and at once, and recommending the appointment of a committee made up as above with authority to look into the matter and make report to Council.

This committee was appointed at last meeting of council and at their meeting last evening decided that while the need of the three pieces named was absolutely imperative it would be possible to get along at this time without the triple combination pump. The apparatus recommended will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000 or $12,000 and bids will be asked for same following next meeting of Council.

This apparatus cannot be secured too soon as our town is badly in need of same. Our fire department has been very lucky in the past and has done good work with the tools at hand; give them anything near what they should have and they will do much better. It will be an investment worth while and may mean not only the saving of your property but the life of your self or dear ones.

When the time comes to do your bit in the fire apparatus campaign do not be a slacker.

State S. S. Convention In Full Swing Today

Three Separate Buildings Being Used
To Accommodate Crowds

Pittsburgh, Oct. 10.—Having been launched with successful features yesterday, the fifty-fifth annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association today assumed the aspect of a three-ringed circus common to annual meetings of that active organization. Three separate meetings for different classes of workers were going on at once this morning, with a general session scheduled for this afternoon and another tonight.

Elementary workers met this morning in the First Baptist Church, in charge of Mrs. W. M. Johnson, Cambridge Springs. Speakers included Miss Emma Lemen, Indianapolis; Mrs. M. J. Baldwin, Chicago; Mr. Walter A. Snow, Clearfield; W. Va.; Mrs. C. E. McGirk, Philipsburg, Pa.; and Miss Frances Cooper, Washington, Pa. The session was followed

Freight Handler Points Out That Man's Second Duty Is His Country

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 9.—A man's first duty is to God, his Creator, his next to his country, whether it be his native or adopted country, in defense of whose sovereign rights he should be prepared to shed his blood and lay down his life if necessary.

Every man, no matter how humble or obscure his station in life, who is not privileged to join the armed forces of his country, should in time of war, arouse himself to a realization of his duty to do whatever is at hand to help his country, and to aid by every means in his power his government to gather and wield its forces and its resources with such expedition and efficiency as to quickly conquer and speedily and successfully terminate

German Admiral in Russia makes Report of "Revolution" in Russia Turning Heads of His Men

MORE PEACE TALK COMING

Amsterdam, Oct. 10.—Both the majority and the minority Socialists parties in the house voted against a vote of confidence in Chancellor Michaelis according to a Berlin dispatch received today.

Amsterdam, Oct. 10.—A revelation that which broke out in the German navy recently was disclosed by Admiral Von Capelle, minister of the navy, in a speech before the Reichstag. The admiral frankly stated that it was "unfortunately a fact" that the Russian revolution turned the heads of some persons in the navy. Von Capelle declared that the plot had been suppressed and claimed that some members of the Reichstag were involved. He said some of the plotters "had suffered a deserved punishment." The principal plotters conferred with independent Reichstag members, he declared. "Beltman, Hasse and Voghel, obtaining their approval. I cannot repeat subsequent events in the navy. Some suffered a severe penalty. Names now in circulation are greatly exaggerated. The affairs of the navy are not threatened for a single moment."

A report of a revolutionary plot in the German navy is the indication of a definite influence of the agitation of Russians at the front among German troops and sailors. Members mentioned by Von Capelle are leaders of the growing socialist party in the Reichstag who have been conducting a fearless and consistent agitation against the war, demanding an early peace.

Hold Secret Conference

Paris, Oct. 1.—A secret conference of the German empire council is being held at grand German headquarters, a leading newspaper announced today. The Kaiser himself was said to be presiding with Field Marshal Hindenburg, Quartermaster General Ludendorff, Chancellor Michaelis, former Secretary Kuehlmann in attendance, and also former Chancellor Von Benlow and Von Bethmann Hollweg present.

Turkey Wants Peace

Rome, Oct. 10.—Bulgaria, Turkey and possibly Austria will present an ultimatum to Germany demanding that they take definite steps toward bringing the war to an end, according to reports here. The ultimatum, it is understood will be presented collectively or separately on the occasion of the forthcoming meeting of the rulers of the Central Empires at Sofia.

by a luncheon for workers in this class.

Special conferences for older boys and girls of Sunday Schools were also held, speakers being Miss Slattery, Tonight Dr. Wilson and Mr. Lawrence will address one of the biggest meetings of the convention.

How can a man who cannot afford to buy a Liberty bond or to make any considerable contribution to the Red Cross help our beloved America to win the war? As such a one I find every day in my occupation as a freight handler opportunities of rendering valuable aid to our government by seeing to it that all government shipments or shipments for government contracts, which come under my notice, are expedited with all possible dispatch to their destinations, and by using extra vigilance that these shipments are not misplaced or misloaded, but are carefully handled and loaded in cars so as to reach destination in perfect condition giving them preference over many other classes of freight, and working extra time when necessary, that they may not suffer delay.

Poor old John Barleycorn is surely on his last legs now, and if business keeps up the way she is heading the decrepit old undesirable will very soon not have even one leg to stand on, and when this condition does arise the old fellow will sure be in some predicament. For the past few years the temperance people have been "putting the boots" to Barleycorn with such vigor that he has been forced to take his meals off the mantel piece and now that his real friends—the booze peddlers—have boosted prices beyond the reach of all but the very rich, and turning his poor, deluded victims against him because they can't pay the price, the one leg stage has about arrived and we shudder to think of the possibilities of the future.

Before Congress closed its session they taxed whiskey to the total extent of $3.20 per gallon and fixed the tax on a barrel of beer at $2.75. The liquor dealers, both manufacturer and retailer are always real patriots and will not interfere with any man paying this excess tax, in fact they straightway went into convention with themselves and made it possible for the other fellow to pay these added taxes to support their government at war, by arranging a schedule of prices which did not interfere with their profits to the extent of one cent, while boosting the entire burden of the added war taxes upon the backs of the already overburdened consumer.

To illustrate this thoughtfulness on the part of the booze peddlers we ask permission to refer once more to the local or Clearfield County Retail Liquor Dealers Association, which organization with the great ability and keen foresight which characterizes their officers and guiding spirits, took time by the forelock and anticipating the action of Congress boosted prices three months ago to meet the raise of the brewer and distiller now, since the new revenue law went into effect October 1st.

Many of the other liquor dealers' organizations throughout the state met Sunday last and raised prices, but when the local crowd was called to order and the call of the State president was read telling how much prices ought to be raised, the committee on ways and means reported that to boost 'er any higher meant absolute prohibition, and some of those present were against that, and there they hung until the meeting adjourned to await developments.

In proof of the above statement we append the schedule of prices agreed upon by the 1200 liquor dealers present at the Allegheny county meeting in Pittsburgh Sunday, as taken from Monday's Gazette Times:—

The following scale of prices was rushed through despite those in opposition, who wished to let the local saloonist fix his own rates:

"Bar whiskey, 15 cents a glass straight; bonded whisky and special blends, 20 cents; bonded quarts, $2.25; bonded pints, $1.15; bonded half pints, 60 cents; bonded quarts, $1.75; bonded pints, 95 cents; bonded half pints, 50 cents; gins and all Irish and Scotch whiskies, 25 cents straight; bar gin, 20 cents straight.

This is the standard price agreed upon for beer sales: Five ounce glass for 5 cents, 10 cents for a 10-ounce glass. As no beers are now imported, those domestic brands in use resembling imported beers have been raised to 20 and 25 cents per seidel, with small bottles to go at 15 cents and large ones at 20 cents.

The largest whisky glass is fixed at one and three-fourths ounces, and a 10-ounce beer glass is recommended.

The brewers are not going to let the retailers get all the gravy while the consumer is paying the war tax and (Continued On Page Three)

Letters to the Editor

We depart from our promise not to engage in a controversy with Publicist Bangert, the official scribe of the Li-quorbund, regarding a previous article or two which appeared in The Progress recently about the situation in Jefferson county before and since that county went dry and eliminated all "booze foundries."

We published a statement from the Punksutawney Republican showing a falling off of more than 100 per cent in the number of arrests by the police of their town during the first year without license as compared with the police records of the year previous. As Bangert bleeds every time old Jack Barleycorn is hit below the belt he took issue with the statement in a communication in which he charged that the recent criminal court in Jefferson county was the largest in many years, and asked if we knew that that fact was due to the county being dry.

We replied that we had no knowledge that the court was out of the ordinary but would inquire and when we got the facts would publish them. We queried a responsible Jefferson county citizen, familiar with the facts, and published his statement Monday, with the explanation that no controversy was desired.

The Publicist finds fault with every statement in every article in question which gives Barleycorn the worst of it, and in order to show the shallowness of his penny-a-line argument we publish it at this time and beg our readers indulgence for this much of the controversy, which ends here.

Our friend Bangert appears to feel hurt because he alleges we doubted his veracity, and if he can arrive at that conclusion after reading our gentle reprimand we will have to allow him to go to it. We have never known Brother Bangert to privately, personally, wickedly or with malice aforethought engage in the deplorable pastime of bearing false witness, but we do know, and it is a matter of public record in two separate places as recorded on the archives of the criminal courts of Clearfield county, by direction of two juries of twelve men, where after much effort, no doubt, he forced his pen to write that was untrue, when he was manufacturing the truth for a purpose it a penny-a-line as he is and has been doing, when lending his professional talent to the defense of booze and booze peddlers.

Mr. Bangert's letter speaks for itself. Read it:

DuBois, Pa. Oct. 8, 1917
Editor of The Progress,
Clearfield, Pa.

Replying to the article which appeared in The Progress Saturday, October 6, This controversy began by the statement published in The Progress that there had been fewer arrests at Punksutawney, Jefferson county, during the first year that county had gone dry, than had been made during the previous year of license. The Progress claims that this unproved condition was brought about because, there were no liquor licenses.

We called the attention of The Progress to the fact that the recent criminal court of Jefferson county was one of the largest in the history of that county, and asked The Progress if they account for this in the same manner. We wanted to know whether the fact that Jefferson county had gone dry is accountable for the exceptionally large criminal court.

The Progress replied that they did not know whether the criminal court of Jefferson county was larger than in the past or not, that they only had Bangert's word. The Progress agreed to investigate, and did, publishing on Saturday a communication from some lawyer, whose identity they have not disclosed, and that correspondent has in mind the truthfulness of our statement that the criminal court of Jefferson county was one of the largest in the history of that county. The Progress correspondent says:

"It is true that our August criminal court was larger than usual."

The correspondent of The Progress has verified our statement that the August criminal court was larger

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. F. J. Edwards' discovery that certain herbs and oils could be used to cleanse the liver and the system without the harmful effects of calomel.

There is no doubt that calomel does not have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like calomel, and they don't cause the liver to become inflamed. They are the only medicine that can be taken without any harm to the system. So do not use calomel, but let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dizziness" and that feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "tired" and "heavy." No more headaches, no more

Beautiful 1918 Maxwell Now On Exhibition

Without altering the world champion motor, the famous perfected clutch and transmission or the mighty axles, the Maxwell builders have produced a new wonder car, far superior in construction and in appearance to anything yet turned out by the Maxwell factories—we have this new and beautiful car—come and see it.

The car is larger and roomier, for one thing—the wheel-base has been increased six inches.

It is also a stronger and more rigid machine for the road.

The frame is now six inches instead of three inches deep.

And the body rests directly on this powerful frame instead of on brackets extending from the sides, as in the past.

Do you know what that means?

It means this: The firmness with which the wheels grip the road and the steadiness of the car at high speed give you a sense of security such as you have been able to enjoy before only in cars shackled with a battery of shock absorbers.

This New Car is 50 Pounds Lighter

There's a marvel of engineering for you, friends!

The car is made bigger and stronger—and yet actually lighter.

This means greater ease and comfort on the road.

Touring Car $745; Roadster $745; Coupe $1095; Berline $1095; Sedan $1095
All prices f. o. b. Detroit

Smith & Barger Sales Co.
Clearfield, Pa.

More than that—it means greater economy.

And the Maxwell before was the most economical 5-passenger car in the world.

Compensating underslung rear springs—the last word in spring suspension—mark this wonderful Maxwell of 1918.

They mean greater comfort—greater economy, by lessening wear and tear on the car.

Maxwell Now Has the Style of the Costliest Cars

The new Maxwell is a car of great beauty.

It has a sloped windshield and rakish lines never before produced in any car costing less than $1200.

Its good looks now equal its proved mechanical efficiency.

The new upholstery is richer and gives a new comfort.

Inside and out the new 1918 Maxwell is a perfected car.

We're proud to sell it.

You'll be proud to own one.

than usual, and we will not again ask the Progress whether it believes this great wave of crime which has passed over Jefferson county is due to the fact that there are no liquor license there?

The Progress says: "Mr. Bangert made certain assertions regarding the recent Jefferson county criminal court and alleged that the people of Jefferson county were already tired of the peace, sobriety and good order due to the changed conditions."

We made no assertions of any kind as to whether the people were satisfied with their present conditions or tired of them. The Progress is asked to show us a single assertion made in any of our issues as to the feeling of the people of Jefferson county.

It has been the custom for many years of the Prohibitionists to blame all crime upon the liquor industry. They assure us that if all licenses were eradicated there would be no crime in the poor house and the criminal courts would be out of business. The argument has stood for 30 years and is liable to stand for 30 years more.

The correspondent of The Progress, whom the editor says is reliable, among other things, says:

"The greater part of the crime of the last criminal court was taken up with the trial of the Ernest Thomas murder case, as Mr. Bangert does not well know. That case came from a rural township which never had a saloon and it did not appear that Ernest Thomas was ever addicted to the use of liquor."

That sounds a queer thing to say, than many of the famous murders we read about the last criminal court. It seems that the number of murders in other criminal cases of the same court was the August criminal court was not trueable to the mind of a sane person. In another place the correspondent says:

"The other murder case came from a rural township which never had a saloon and it did not appear that Ernest Thomas was ever addicted to the use of liquor."

Joe Dugan, a 12-year-old boy, while trying to board a freight train at Brockwayville last evening, missed his hold and fell under the wheels, receiving injuries that proved fatal in less than an hour. Young Dugan was playing around the Pennsylvania railroad cars at 6:20 last evening when an Erie freight train came along. The lad tried to swing onto the step of a car but missed and went under. The wheels covered both legs and otherwise mutilated the young victim. He was taken to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dugan as soon as possible and medical aid summoned but he expired in a short time. The funeral will be held Thursday.

they got their heads together and boosted their prices to the trade, tacking on an extra $1.75 per barrel for draft beer and a corresponding increase in bottled beers. Under the new schedule the retailer pays $10.50 per barrel and $1.40 per case of twenty-four pint bottles. The private trade will be soaked $1.75 for an "eighth," or little keg; $3.50 for a "quarter," and $1.75 for a case of twenty-four bottles. The wholesaler is given his barrels for $8.75; a barrel in little kegs for $9.75 and cases at $1.05 each.

This is a free country alright and the booze peddlers are free to allow the consumer to pay every cent of the war tax—if you will allow us to repeat this assertion, which we want to stick in—and the consumer is free to do it, but he is a damphool if he does, and we wonder if this last move wont open his eyes to his own weakness and gullibility. And then if the worm should turn—but it's coming anyhow.

WORLD'S GREATEST DESTROYER CONTRACT AWARDED BY DANIELS

Washington, Oct. 9.—Secretary Daniels today awarded contracts to five shipbuilding companies for the construction of $350,000,000 worth of destroyers. This is the biggest contract for vessels of this type ever awarded by this or any other government and when these destroyers have been completed, it is expected that the United States will have the largest fleet of destroyers in the world.

With the award of these contracts the war construction program of the American navy was brought to a total of 737 vessels, including all types from superdreadnoughts to submarine chasers. Some have been finished in the past few weeks and are now in service. The rest of the program is being pushed as rapidly as possible to completion. The total cost of the program is estimated at $1,250,400,000.

The total number of destroyers to be built is held to be a military secret. The basis of the price for the construction, Mr. Daniels said, was cost plus, with guarantees that the cost should not be above a certain figure and, if below that figure, the companies to receive a bonus.

PRESIDENT IN CONFERENCE WITH LAFOLLETTE PROBERS

Pomerene Promised All Facts Relating To Lusitania And Her Cargo

Washington, October 9.—Chairman Pomerene of the Senate committee investigating Senator La Follette's St. Paul speech conferred today with President Wilson and with Secretary Lansing, gathering material for examining La Follette's statement that former Secretary Bryan having knowledge of ammunition cargo on board the Lusitania when she sailed on her last voyage, urged the President to keep Americans off the ship.

All facts in the State Department's possession relating to the ship and her cargo will be placed before the investigating committee without reserve, Senator Pomerene was assured.

Mr. Bryan already has denied Senator La Follette's statement.

Senator Pomerene today wrote Mr. Bryan asking him to advise the committee regarding La Follette's assertions.

A telegram received today from the Minnesota Public Safety Commission, which forwarded the first petitions for Senator La Follette's expulsion, stated that three certified transcripts of the St. Paul speech as taken by three separate expert stenographers were being forwarded today to the committee. Senator La Follette is also expected to submit a transcript.

President To Issue Order That Will Govern Trade in About 20 Leading Commodities

Washington, D. C., Oct. 9.—Virtually all the staple foods consumed by the American people will be put under Government control November 1. The Food Administration announced tonight that within a few days President Wilson will issue an Executive order requiring that manufacturers and distributors of some 20 fundamental foods operate under license restrictions designed to prevent unreasonable profits and to stop speculation and hoarding.

Regulations will be prescribed for meat packers, cold storage houses, millers, canners, elevators, grain dealers and wholesale dealers and retailers doing a business of more than $100,000 annually in the commodities to be named.

A DROP of Atlantic Gasoline—what majesty, what superb virility! Torn to shreds in the cylinder-head and lashed into a stream of might in instant flight from crank-shaft to rear wheels!

Pep. Power. Tremendous power—steady, unflinching. Truly a super-gasoline that makes any motor a better motor, that makes any motorist a happier motorist.

Atlantic Gas is so downright spunky. Up-hills are turned into down-grades. Level stretches become as the free, unobstructed air to the whirling aeroplane. Increased mileage and decreased upkeep are a matter of course—and fact.

Whatever you drive—Ford or Fiat, Cole or Cadillac, Roamer or Rolls-Royce, Atlantic Gasoline will give it new impetus, new vigor. For, Atlantic Gas will and does Put Pep in Your Motor.

ATLANTIC GASOLINE

Puts Pep in Your Motor

"You've Got the Goods, Atlantic!"

"Today, the specific gravity test is practically worthless as a check on the quality of a gasoline, for example, for a given motor equipment. It seems most probable that the definition of gasoline will have to be based on the percentage of distillate over between specified temperatures, when the distillate is carried out under specified conditions."

"The gasoline must not vaporize too freely for two reasons: One, that it would not be safe, and secondly, its loss in storage by evaporation would be too great. Hence, the specification may have to contain limitations on the percentage distillate over below a certain temperature, coupled perhaps with a proviso that certain percentages shall distill over below other fixed temperatures, in order that requisite amount of low-boiling constituents shall be present to insure easy starting of an engine."

"Likewise the specification must contain a proviso that all must distill over below a certain maximum temperature, in order to exclude from the gasoline the heavier petroleum distillates, such as kerosene."

Official Press-Statement by U. S. Govt. Bureau of Standards.

We've been preaching and practicing the same thing for years. The boiling-point of Atlantic Gasoline is always uniform. It meets Uncle Sam's laws perfectly.

only every man and woman could be take place. Instead of thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women

NEW OVERLAND
CAR WILL COST
UNDER $500John North Willys and the Willys-
Overland Company have in final form
the car that is to be the first serious
challenge to the Ford car and the Ford Motor company. The new Over-
land car will sell for under $500. It
is of remarkably good appearance and
solid mechanical worth, and will be
offered with complete equipment, including electrical starting and light-
ing. Its appearance will mean that buyers of cars in the Ford class will
no longer be able to make their pur-
chases without considering another
machine. As the Willys-Overland company is the second largest individual
maker of automobiles in the world,
the Ford company being at present
in the premier position, the offering
of the new car marks the beginning
of a struggle between the two firms
of the industry who are best fitted to
occupy first place. Willys and his
engineers are confident that, mechani-
cally good as the Ford car is, they
have far exceeded it in their present
design.Briefly the new machine may be
outlined as possessing a four cylinder
engine, a two speed sliding gear trans-
mission as against the planetary
gearing of the Ford; a unique spring
suspension that is sufficient in itself
and which precludes the necessity of
shock absorbers so essential on low
priced cars; electric lighting and
starting that is really designed for
the car and sold with it, instead of
being tacked on afterwards at an extra expense. The weight is around
1,550 pounds and new records are expected to be made in gasoline consumption and tire life when the car
gets into the hands of the owners.
Plans are being made for enormous
production next season.Coupled with the mechanical features is an appearance that is highly
pleasing, and expresses the value beneath to such a degree that one of the
few persons that has been privileged
to see the car exclaimed that "for the
money, it looks as though they had
stolen their materials." In other words the natural query is—"How can
they do it?" and the answer lies in
the fact that Willys is the second large-
est maker of automobiles. He is possessed of the facilities and ability to
make such a car in the way it has to
be made in order that it may be made
so. He also possesses the national
selling organization that is necessary
to market such a car, though it is
obvious that, once well started in actual use, the new vehicle will share
the Ford's self-selling honors along
with all the rest.Essentially a volume producer, Wil-
lys' thoughts for several years, naturally have turned to the field in
which the greatest volume is possible,
and it has long been his idea to produce a car of a kind and at a price
that would challenge the dominant
manufacturer in that field. However,
his own business has been so enormous, and his equipment, big as it is, so fully employed, coupled with the fact that he was not ready in the
sense that his sources of supplies were not yet developed to the point where they could bear their
share of the load and he has been compelled to forego putting his plan into execution. However, he has not for a moment wavered in his determination
to do it when the right time came.The time is now at hand, the tremendous Willys properties not only at
Toledo, but at various other points,
have been developed at a high degree
of coordination. For at least four years his engineering staff has been
at work developing the various types
of the cars desired, but it is only with-
in itself the qualities that Willys
knows it must have. As a matter of
fact work on such a car was started
back as far as the time when part of
the Willys factories were located in Indianapolis. Be it said to his credit
that he then realized that he had not
the equipment to start such a project
and carry it through to success.Now he has the immense Toledo, O.,
plants and wide spread affiliations
with sources of supplies and materials
to assure him all the parts he needs.
In preparation for commencing the
new output the inventories have been
changed gradually, and it has been determined to reduce materially the
number of models, retaining only certain standard chassis and offering
these with a variety of bodies.Those who have ridden in the new
car state that its spring suspension
makes it ride as well as a heavy car
of 130 inch wheel base and comparative tests beside the Ford show conclusively its superiority. It is a car
that the masses can buy, run economically, and ride in with comfort and pride.The engine is 3 1-2 x 4 inches.
Among the ingenuities of the car
must be listed the frame, which combines cross members and running board supports in one. Even the battery box is made to brace the frame
instead of merely hanging gracefullyCELEBRATION

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Camp Grant
Rockford, Ill.Dear Brother:
Well it is two weeks tonight since
I left Clearfield and I have been so
busy that it hasn't seemed more than two days.I find life in the U. S. army very pleasant so far. We get up between 5:30 and 5:45 and have reveille at 6.
From 6 until 6:25 we have muscular
exercises. You should be in that.
The ten days I have spent here has done me a lot of good. At 6:30 we have mess and are ready for duty at 7:15. We drill from then until noon
or 11:30 rather, but not steady. We have muscular exercise and lectures
desides drill. From 11:30 to 1:05 is mess and clean up time. Then we
drill from 1:05 till 4:15, wash and get
supper at 5. After chuck we stand
retreat at 5:40 and are free until 11
but if in camp must be quiet after 9
o'clock. I have only been out of camp
once. Last Sunday evening I was
over to the City of Rockford, but I shall be careful when I go again. I got lost. When I arrived back at
camp I had quite a time finding our barracks. You can get some idea of
the number of men in here when I tell
you of a fellow I came here with from
Columbus and whose barracks is only
3 buildings from here. I never saw
him after I landed until today when I
made a special trip to his company to
give him a letter that came to our
building. They are sending all the
drafted men from Illinois here but
they are not going in the Engineers.
There was a piece in the Rockford pa-
per some few days ago that I wish
I had cut out and sent back home. It
was about a bunch of drafted men
who were passed by the local board
and when they got off the train at
camp one of them was found to have only one hand and another a wooden leg. They sure had some write upWalk and
